

NEW YORK

In the first half of 2023, New York had approximately 3,300 state hospital beds for adults with severe mental illness. This puts New York at 16.8 available beds per 100,000 population. 757 state hospital beds (23%) are designated for forensic patients in New York. New York state officials did not provide official numbers for the number of forensic patients treated in state hospitals, so there may be additional forensic patients in beds designated for civil patients in New York that are unaccounted for in this report.

New York's rank among the states

#5 in beds per 100,000 population

#41 in percentage of beds occupied by forensic patients
